Deidra Walters, Ole Miss

To be honest, here is one of my all time favorite comments from someone who did not like my presentation style:

"I would have used my time better staying home and reading an indepth book on the subject."

She didn't sign her name, but I think this was from a woman who read a newspaper the entire time I was teaching a two-day workshop in New York City. I specialize in learning through highly interactive seminars, so don't look for PowerPoint or a university lecture. Expect to laugh and learn.
